

Wavion selected by Coolnet to Provide Wi-Fi Coverage in main cities of the Palestinian Territories

Yoqne'am, Israel, May 18, 2009 - Wavion™, a company transforming the Metro and Rural Wi-Fi market with a new category of Wi-Fi Base Stations, and Coolnet, an Internet Service Provider (ISP) in the Palestinian Territories, today announced the completion of a large scale Wi-Fi deployment based on Wavion WBS-2400 Base Stations in the Palestinian Territories. The WBS-2400 Base Stations will provide high-speed wireless (Wi-Fi) connectivity to medium and small businesses and residences in main cities in the Palestinian Territories.

"As a service provider in the Palestine Territories, our goal is to cover our cities and towns with Wi-Fi and enable reliable broadband internet connectivity to our customers", said Hani Alami, the CEO of Coolnet. "After a thorough examination of the existing Wi-Fi solutions, we have chosen Wavion's WBS-2400 because of its powerful and unique beamforming technology which enabled us to deploy our network with lower CAPEX and offer high quality internet services at lower prices to our customers".

Wavion's WBS-2400 spatially adaptive beamforming base stations provide extended range, improved indoor penetration and better interference resilience. The WBS-2400 base stations were installed in the cities of Ramallah, Nablus, Bethlehem and Hebron and provide internet connectivity for business and residential users with 512KBps and 1MBps.

"We are proud to be selected by Coolnet for their large scale metro Wi-Fi deployment", said Eran Kaplan, EVP of Sales and Marketing. "It is yet another testimonial to our superior performance in terms of range, indoors penetration, non-line-of-sight connectivity, and to its unique value proposition for city-wide deployments".
